

TROPICAL STORM IDA UPDATE 2

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE --- November 9, 2009; 5:00 p.m. --- The Louis Armstrong New Orleans International Airport is continuing to operate under a Tropical Storm Warning.

The following airlines have announced schedule changes.

American Airlines: All departures will operate today but the early morning Tuesday departures are canceled. American's first departure on Tuesday will be at 9:50 a.m.

AeroMexico: Canceled the Monday evening arrival and then Tuesday morning departure.

All other airlines continue to monitor weather conditions.

Passengers are encouraged to check with their airlines via the web site or reservation systems prior to coming to the airport for the status of their flight.

For the latest flight information, refer to your airlines' web site or reservations number or the Airport's web site at www.flymsy.com.