

FINGERPRINT – CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORDS CHECK APPLICATION

Under Transportation Security Administration (TSA) requirements, a fingerprint-based criminal history records check is required before an airport identification badge can be issued which allows an individual to have unescorted access to the Security Identification Display Area (SIDA) and/or Sterile Areas, or authority to authorize others to have unescorted access to the SIDA.

DISQUALIFYING CRIMINAL OFFENSES. Have you been convicted, or found not guilty by reason of insanity, of any of the disqualifying crimes listed below during the previous ten years? You must complete a checkbox for each disqualifying offense. If you answer “yes” to any of the following, you may be ineligible to obtain an identification badge and will be required to provide additional information for further processing of your application. Additionally, you may be disqualified for any other crime classified as a felony that the TSA Administrator determines indicates a propensity for placing contraband aboard an aircraft in return for money.
